

Services to Private Non-Public Schools

The professionals of Mind Streams/A Plus Educators have served both public and private schools nationwide for nearly fifty years. We believe that the key to educational excellence lies in enhancing the quality of teaching practices and in supporting dedicated teachers and administrators in their work. Mind Streams/A Plus Educators partners with regionally accredited universities and nationally respected educational specialists to provide degree and certification programs, professional development, and quality resources that support the mission and goals of private schools.

Custom Professional Development Services

Customized training and professional development services are research-based and provided by educational leaders such as Dr. Lorraine Ozar, Dr. Harry Wong, Dr. Joyce Johnstone, Dr. Marcia Tate, John Antonetti, and Will Richardson amongst other noted specialists. Professional development is customized and based upon the identified school needs. Professional development services are delivered through on-site and web-based presentations, iPad, SMART and Promethean technology, and other platforms incorporating the latest technological advancements.

Courses of Study, Degree and Certification Programs

Through partnerships with regionally accredited universities, Mind Streams/A Plus Educators offers an extensive list of online and face-to-face courses of study that can be applied towards undergraduate degrees, advanced degrees and teaching certification and endorsement programs designed for educators. Mind Streams/A Plus Educators supports teachers and administrators throughout their university experience beginning with consultation to identify the appropriate program, assistance with enrollment and financial aid applications, training in the online learning environment, and ongoing support throughout the program. Courses of study are offered through partnerships with the University of Notre Dame, University of St. Thomas, Grand Canyon University, Jones International University, and Mount St. Mary's University.

Identifying Funding Sources

Mind Streams/A Plus Educators supports Dioceses, consortiums, schools, and individual educators with identifying and accessing resources to fund professional development and degree programs. Mind Stream services and programs can be supported with federal funds including ESEA and IDEA entitlements. Private school educators have been awarded federal loan forgiveness and TEACH grants to attain degrees and certification. Mind Streams/A Plus Educators provides valuable consultation on financial aid and grants to assist educators in attaining desired degrees, certification and career goals.

Premier Partnership Program

Mind Streams/A Plus Educators has partnered with nationally respected organizations and universities to provide the most current and successful practices in professional development. Partnerships with institutions that provide research-based training, resources, and university degree and certification programs create opportunities for educators to receive professional development that will assist them in meeting the instructional needs of all learners.

University of Notre Dame Alliance for Catholic Education

- Principals' Academy
- Superintendent's Strategic Leadership Conference
- Strategic Intervention Team Training
- English as a New Language certification
- Teaching Exceptional Children certification

A+ Educators

- Custom Workshops and Conferences
- iSeries - Professional development integrating iPads
- Focus - Classroom Walkthrough
- Coaching for Achievement

University of St. Thomas, Houston Online Master of Education Degree Programs

- Educational Leadership
- Dual Language
- Special Education
- Curriculum and Instruction
- Generalist

AIMS (Activities Integrating Math and Science)

- Customized hands-on math and science workshops
- Based on research-based strategies and proven practices
- Aligned to STEM goals and Common Core Standards

Loyola University of Chicago Center for Catholic School Educators

- Site-based training and consulting services for Dioceses
- Custom Workshops: Common Core State Standards, Curriculum Mapping, Instructional Leadership, etc
- Summer Institute for Department Chairs

iTeach Academy

- Productivity & Creating Content
- Developing a Workflow for Assessment & Evaluation
- Subject Area Focus
- Train the Trainer
- Leadership Summit

Mount St. Mary's University

- Masters of Education Degree
- On Campus/Online Courses of Study
- Maryland Administrative Certification upon attaining M.Ed. degree
- Tools to become reflective professional educators

Mind Streams/A Plus Educators has established partnerships with public school districts across the country to serve the private schools in Los Angeles, Houston, San Diego, Fort Worth, Riverside, Chicago, Indianapolis, Detroit, Miami and Jacksonville to mention only a few. We are proud to serve and share the achievements of the private and public school clients and welcome the opportunity to work with new Dioceses, consortiums and schools. Please contact Mind Streams/A Plus Educators for additional information!